

Workshop

Organisation : Benjamin Dabosville, senior lecturer, Université de Strasbourg

Which institutions to promote a well-functioning wage bargaining in Europe?

Comparison between France, Germany and the Scandinavian countries

17 June 2024 | 8h45-16h00

Morning
 ☉ Conference room, MISHA
 5 allée du Général Rouvillois - Strasbourg

Afternoon
 ☉ Alex Weill room, Faculty of law
 1 place d'Athènes - Strasbourg

DROITS D'INSCRIPTION

Entrée libre mais inscription obligatoire

Online registration :
<https://europa.unistra.fr>

CONTACT

fru6703-contact@unistra.fr

ACCÈS DEPUIS L'AÉROPORT

Prendre le train jusqu'à la gare centrale de Strasbourg

ACCÈS DEPUIS LA GARE

Tram C direction Neuhof Rodolphe Reuss
 Arrêt «Observatoire» ou « Esplanade »

MANIFESTATION VALIDÉE AU TITRE DE LA FORMATION CONTINUE DES AVOCATS

N° déclaration d'activité : 4267 04090 67

Conception : Aurélie Kraft - FRU 6703

Organised by

Laboratoire
Droit, religion, entreprise et société | DRES
 de l'Université de Strasbourg et du

Partners

Faculté de droit, de sciences politiques et de gestion
 Université de Strasbourg
 Fabrique de la société européenne | MAKERS
 Université de Strasbourg
 Institut du travail
 Université de Strasbourg
 Faculté des langues
 Université de Strasbourg

What are the legal, social and political mechanisms that structure branch wage negotiations and enable them to function successfully? This question is all the more necessary given the current situation in wage bargaining. At French national level, some proposals, such as the creation of a High Council on Remuneration (Haut Conseil des rémunérations), have been made by the State to boost the wage dynamic. At European level, directive n°2022/2041 of October 19, 2022 also calls on Member States to encourage “constructive, meaningful and informed negotiations on wages between the social partners”.

This workshop will use an international and interdisciplinary approach to identifying the different drivers of sectoral collective bargaining on wage-setting and the role of the various models, standards and organizations that structure and help them to function “well”. Bringing together experts from different scientific fields, it will focus in particular on the French, German and Scandinavian experiences of sectoral wage bargaining.

The workshop is in English. Time will be set aside for discussion with the audience.

«This work of the Interdisciplinary Thematic Institute MAKERS, as part of the ITI 2021-2028 program of the University of Strasbourg, CNRS and INSERM, was supported by IdEx Unistra (ANR-10-IDEX-0002), and by SFRI-STRAT'US project (ANR-20-SFRI-0012).»

9h Opening speech

Jeanne-Marie Tuffery-Andrieu, Dean of the Faculty of Law, Political Sciences and Management

Fabienne Tournadre, Director of the Labour Institute

Thomas Mohnike, Dean of the Faculty of Foreign Languages and Cultures

Mélanie Schmitt, Director of UMR 7354 DRES

9h20 Introduction. Promote “constructive, meaningful and informed negotiations” while “fully respecting the role of the social partners” : the EU ambition

Andreas Inghammar, Associate professor at Department of Business Law, Lund University

9h40 Part I. Sectoral wage bargaining without statutory minimum wage in the Scandinavian countries

Norway

Anette P. Hemmingby, Associate Professor, Norwegian Business School

Sweden

Andrea Iossa, Senior Lecturer in labour law, Kristianstad University

Denmark

Vincenzo Pietrogiovanni, Associate Professor of Labour Law at the Department of Law, University of Southern Denmark

Finland

Paul Jonker-Hoffrén, Senior Research Fellow, Tampere University

13h30 Part II. Sectoral wage bargaining with statutory minimum wage : Germany and France

Germany

Marcus Kahmann, Researcher at IRES (Institute for social and economic research)

Judith Brockmann, Professor for Economic Law, Social Law and Labour Law, Kassel University

France

Catherine Vincent, Researcher at IRES (Institute for social and economic research)

Benjamin Dabosville, senior Lecturer, University of Strasbourg

16h00 End of Seminar